Flamenco Vivo Carlota Santana

Established in 1983 by Carlota Santana and Roberto Lorca, Flamenco Vivo Carlota Santana is a professional Flamenco dance company based in New York City, North Carolina and Madrid. It was founded with the vision of promoting a forum whereby new and quality Spanish dance works and music, could be created, developed and presented to the general audiences. After Mr. Lorca's untimely death, Ms. Santana took over the artistic direction of the company and has expanded its repertoire by creating many new dramatic dance works, musical scores and choreographies within a mixture of various dance vocabularies. Ms. Santana is also deeply involved in integrating Hispanic-American influences into the Company's work; in the development of young artists; and in promoting Hispanic culture through national performances and Arts Education programming. The Company's innovative Arts-in-Education programs, integrating Spanish dance and culture with the school curriculum, have achieved wide recognition and success in many important theatres and in schools, nationwide and internationally.

Riqueza Flamenca, our inclusive learning program, provides an in-depth experience of Spanish culture and history to older adults of all abilities. During a long-term residency with a professional Teaching Artist, participants will learn about Spain's most popular dance form, flamenco, along with its history, geography and culture. The vitality of flamenco provides a spirited learning context, in which the Teaching Artist and participants explore and develop together. The residency includes a performance by the professional dance company, as well as a final performance by the participants in full flamenco costume.

Flamenco

General: Flamenco started as a secret song many years ago and has blossomed into the wonderful art of dance, music and song. It is an international art because it speaks of the feelings we all have as human beings, no matter where we live. Flamenco is an art form from Andalucía in southern Spain. It came from four different cultural people: Christians, Gypsies, Moors/Arabs and Sephardic Jews.

People

Christians	People of Andalucía who had rich musical and dance traditions from different groups throughout the regions of Spain
Gypsies	People who came from a northern region of India. They traveled through the Middle East, North Africa, and Europe. In about 1425, they settled in Andalucía. They had their own musical traditions, but borrowed from different groups. The hand movements are similar to Indian dance.
Moors/Arabs	People from North Africa who invaded Spain in 711 A.D. They settled southern Spain for about 700 years. The flamenco guitar is considered to be introduced from these people. They also brought music, song, and poetry to flamenco.
Sephardic Jews	One of the earliest groups to settle in Spain, they brought a varied tone in their music and song. It's similar to traditional Judaic vocal music.

Flamenco Elements

Cante	A song. Flamenco singers express pain, joy, and their life in all its colors. Each singer has his or her own vocal quality, style, and manner of delivery.
Baile	A dance. As the musicians play, the dancer communicates strong emotions through his or her moves. The dancers improvise and use their arms, feet for pounding, and handclapping for expressing rhythmic patterns.
Guitarra	A guitar. The guitarist plays for both dancer and singer. The guitarist must be skilled in following the dancer and singer's commands or cues.
Compas	Rhythm or beat. It's very important in flamenco. The dance and song depends on the compas. There are 4, 6, or 12 beat phrases.
Jaleo	Shouts of encouragement and remarks from other people on stage and in the audience. "Olé" is a famous jaleo which comes from the Arabic word "Allah", which means God.
Palmas	Hand clapping. They are used to accompany rhythm for dancer, singer, and guitarist. Sordas and claras are two different types of palmas.
Pitos	Finger snapping. Sometimes, it's used to accompany rhythm for dancer, singer, and guitarist.
Escobilla	Dancer's footwork. The dancer uses: planta (ball of the foot), golpe (whole foot), tacon (heel), and punta (toe) during footwork. The footwork can be very creative as well.
Muneca	Wrist movement
Braceo	Arm movement

Flamenco Rhythms and Moods

Soleares	Sad mood and slow tempo. It has 12 beats and it is the same rhythm as Alegrías.
Alegrías	Happy and exciting mood with an upbeat tempo. It has 12 beats and it is the same rhythm as Soleares.
Tangos	Happy or sad mood in medium tempo. It has 4 beats.
Rumba	Happy and lively mood with medium to fast tempo. Its influences came from Caribbean rhythms with 4 beats.
Sevillanas	Fun and joyful dance from Seville. This dance is done in couples.
Seguiriya	Serious mood with sad emotions. The dancer shows sorrowful feelings and the rhythm is complex.

Flamenco Costumes: Female

Falda	A skirt
Blusa	A blouse
Manton	A big shawl
Mantoncillo/pico	A small shawl
Moño	A hairstyle for women: a flamenco bun at nape of neck
Peineta	A small comb in hair
Enagua	A petticoat that women wear under the dress
Flores	Flowers
Vestido	Dress
Bata de cola	A long ruffled dress with a train

Flamenco Costumes: Male

Pantalones	Pants: Altos – pants high to the chest. Cortos – pants high to the waist.
Chaleco	Vest
Chaqueta	Jacket
Pañuelo	Scarf
Camisa	Shirt
Lunares	Polka-dots

For Both Female and Male Dancers

Zapatos/botas: flamenco shoes that have tiny nail heads on the toe and heel areas to make the sound on the wood. They are not similar to tap shoes. For women, they wear high-heel shoes, and for men, they wear boots with heel.
